THIS IS KATIE

World Record Breaking
Endurance Athlete & Safe Water
Activist

After 70 days alone at sea, Katie Spatz became the youngest person to row the Atlantic ocean solo at age 22, and is just one of many records to her name. No stranger to overcoming challenges, Katie's list of accomplishments is long, including 5 Ironman triathlons, cycling across the country, a 325-mile river swim, and running 138-miles nonstop. Most recently, Katie set the new female world record for the most consecutive ultramarathons by running 11 ultramarathons in 11 days —and she's already planning her next adventure. Surprisingly enough, Katie describes herself as having been the "benchwarmer" throughout her life. However, one day Katie made a discovery: you don't have to be extraordinary to achieve incredible things.

HER MESSAGE

Redefine Possible

Katie has shared her message to more than 150,000 students across America and has spoken all over the world on stages in 7 countries. Katie's combination of energy, humor, determination, and achievements captivates her audience and creates an inspirational and awakening phenomenon for all. Katie's story of reaching new limits is one every student, teacher, professor and individual can relate to. She is an ordinary woman, whose extraordinary personal story will make you laugh, cry, reflect, and leave you inspired to reach higher.

TESTIMONIALS

“

Katie joined my team meeting when morale was low and working from home was wearing hard on some of us. Her relatable way of engaging my team was refreshing and gave us a perspective that brought positivity to us when we needed it!

“

Katie Spotz inspired approximately 600 youth leaders from 25 countries. Her eloquent and inspiring words helped me the rest of the youth that participated in this high caliber seminar. She is an example to follow for the youth around the world!

“

More than 1,000 Rotarians listened to her inspiring talk with rapt attention, totally spellbound after her narration of her incredible adventures. She deserves a Nobel Prize for Peace for her noble intention of generating funds to help those yearning for drinking water.

MEDIA

Katie Spatz has appeared on some of the biggest media outlets around the globe with millions enthralled by a young woman achieving the extraordinary, despite not being a traditional athlete.

HER MISSION

Throughout her adventures, Katie isn't just seeking to make history. She is also raising money for a cause she cares about—providing access to clean drinking water to everyone in the world. Along the way, Katie has helped more than 30,000 people have gained access to clean water in Haiti, Honduras, Guatemala, Nicaragua, India, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Kenya, and the USA. Katie's goal is to raise $1 million for water projects, giving kids a chance to stay in school and get an education instead of fetching water all day.
